2011	£240		BARBARESCO DOCG - GAJA	2004	£300	VILLA DEI MISTERI IGT - MASTROBERARDINO
2001	£600		Angelo Gaja is universally acknowledged as the man who brought Barbaresco into the modern age, a true artisan who knew what the wine world was waiting for. Robert Parker describes the 2001 as "a wine of tremendous harmony...a nose of crushed raspberries, spices and minerals followed by complex dark cherry, tar and menthol flavours on a delicate, medium-bodied frame of great length". Our 1985 selection is the classic introductory vintage to the wine of the company's new era. 14%			Limited to a production of just 1,721 bottles, this full red wine from Campania boasts a complex yet balanced structure of spice and fruit. 13%
1985	£700			2008	£400	BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO CERRETALTO DOCG - CASANOVA DI NERI
						Worldwide accolades abound for this particular vintage. (100 points Wine Enthusiast). The finish on this impeccably structured wine is absolutely incredible; clean, precise and seems to last forever. 14%
2012	£300		ORNELLAIA BOLGHERI IGT - ORNELLAIA	2008	£240	BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO RISERVA DOCG - BIONDI SANTI
2009	£350		The world famous flagship from the winery, made even more prominent internationally by being George Clooney's wine of choice for his recent nuptials. A fine choice indeed, as the delicate nuances of balsam and toastiness on the nose lead to a massive yet silk-smooth and glossy concentration of tannins which allow the wine to deliver a near endless finish. 14%	1997	£800	The wine's creator, Franco Biondi Santi, declared he "wanted to make wines that were never old enough to drink". Wine connoisseurs the world over agree that this has proved to be the case. So from the many classic vintages made and from the few remaining bottles not in private collections we're proud to present three stunning examples. 100% Sangiovese Grosso grapes, hand selected and perfectly aged, deliver harmony, warmth and balance across all selections. 14%
2001	£500			1964	£2000
2013	£250	♀	SASSICAIA - TENUTA SAN GUIDO
2004	£400		Quite simply a "Super Tuscan" of world renown.
2001	£500		The quintessential Italian Cabernet Sauvignon, presented here in three distinct vintages. 13.5%
